

Today, 14.6 million workers remain unemployed, and 6.8 million have been unemployed for more than 27 weeks. The FY2011 Labor, Health and Human Services Appropriations Bill places the greatest emphasis on programs that help workers and families cope with hard times and that help set the stage for further economic recovery and future growth. The bill provides discretionary appropriations totaling $176.4 billion for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and various related agencies.
